

Peek-a-boo

You have moved into a new neighbourhood and hear that the house at the end of the road is haunted. You are not scared of anything and you really want to explore as soon as possible.

One afternoon, after school, you have some time to explore, so you push open the front gate. You walk closer to the front door and notice that it is open. You slowly push the door open and step inside. All of the furniture is covered with sheets and there are cobwebs everywhere. You walk to the stairs and begin to climb. The stairs are creaking with each step you take and you are beginning to feel a chill. All of a sudden your foot goes through a stair. You step back and look inside. You see a glowing box. This must have been hidden here for ages!

You slowly open the box to reveal a folded white sheet. You wonder what that is doing in the box! You lift up the sheet to see if there is anything exciting under it and notice that you can't see your hand anymore!! You realize that the sheet has made your hand invisible! Just think of the possibilities! You stuff the sheet into your bag and run home.
