

Possessive 's'

Possessive means something belongs to someone or something.

To show something belongs to someone or something, we add an apostrophe and an 's', like this:

the boy's bike = the bike that belongs to the boy

Be careful not to confuse the possessive 's' with the plural 's'.

Rewrite each phrase using the possessive form of the noun. The first one has been done for you.

The ears of the dog _____ The dog's ears.

The whiskers of the cat _____

The ring that belongs to the girl _____

The mother of Katie _____

The shoes that belong to my dad _____

The smile of my teacher _____

The beak of the bird _____

The car that belongs to the lady _____

Put in the apostrophe where it belongs.

My sisters coat is too big for me.

The horses tail was brushed.

They banged the cars boot.

The mans paper blew away.

Say as many nice things as you can about your friends in five minutes. For example: I like Tom's smile. Tracy's hair shines.

Stick to singular nouns only for this activity. Use some examples for a display with pictures and captions.
