

His aunt asked,
"What do you want your cake to look like, Sam?"

"Like a football pitch ...
I wish I could play on a real pitch,
and I wish I could play in a real team."

"What sort of party shall we have?" Dad asked.

"A football party, please," said Sam.

"I knew it!" said Dad.

"He's football crazy," they all said.

Dad planned a football quiz,
a goal shooting game,
spot the ball,
and a football treasure trail.

Dad had a good time, but he couldn't think how to get a team for Sam.

