

Life processes we carry out

All living things, whether they are plants or animals, are able to carry out life processes. Living things, including humans can carry out seven life processes.

Listed below are the names of the seven processes that humans carry out. Also below are seven diagrams showing these processes.

■ Draw a line from the diagrams to the names to match them up correctly.

reproduction

nutrition and feeding excretion

breathing and respiration

sensitivity

movement

EXTRA!

Draw a table which shows the life process in one column and the organs in the body which carry out the process in the other.
